

Ecumenical Service Nurses Week 2013

Jackson Health System launched Nurses Week 2013 with the Nurses Week Ecumenical Service to honor and recognize all JHS nurses. This first ecumenical service began with a presentation of photos of JHS nurses followed by the “Nightingale Processional”. This event was video-conferenced to both Jackson North Medical Center and Jackson South Community Hospital.

Highlights:

- Carlos Migoya, JHS President and CEO, stressed the importance of spirituality in caring and highlighted nursing’s importance to the organization in honor of Nurses Week 2013.
- The Nightingale Processional featured five JHS nurses each with a lighted lamp walked up to front of the audience in a solemn march.
- Nurse Practitioner Odiane Medacier led the audience in a reading of the Nightingale Pledge.
- The Jamaican Nurses Association Florida Choir provided beautiful singing with inspirational musical selections.
- More beautiful singing from JHS Registered Nurse Charlene Schaeffer who sang “You Raise Me Up”.
- Reverend Kelley’s group meditation “The Spirituality of Nursing”.
- Peri-Op Nurse Norberto Molina’s powerful and inspirational reflection of a day in his life as a PARU Nurse.
- Blessing of the Hands by Pastoral Care
